

11. Spade Ranch

Dave Wilson – David & Rebecca Wilson are the owners/ operators of Spade Ranch where they run a commercial herd of Black Angus cattle. The ranch is located right along the Big Muddy lake in Surprise Valley. David has worked on some of the largest ranches in Western Canada. Rebecca is a 4th generation rancher who grew up on her family's ranch in BC. Both David & Rebecca run their ranch with the help of their five children, and they are teaching them about the traditional ways of ranching.

Tyler Manske – Tyler Manske is a 4th generation rancher who was born and raised in the Coronach/ Big Beaver area. After graduation Tyler did a year of Heavy Duty Mechanic training, he then took over his grandparent's ranch when they retired in 2021. Tyler did a year of CCA level Team Roping. He now likes to stick with brandings and local roping jackpots. He is a member of the Coronach Horseman's Arena where he is roping or working on colts through out the winter between chores and coaching Sr Boys Basketball.

Alyse Molina – Alyse Molina is a 25 year old horse trainer, who is originally from Alberta. Alyse has worked in feedlots in Alberta and now currently lives in Saskatchewan working on a local feedlot as a pen rider. Alyse competes in cow horse, ranch sorting and ranch rodeos. She also in her spare time trains working cow dogs.

