hydraulic pressure and had no hydraulic pressure. checked the axle lube oil flow by removing the rear line and found no oil flowing. which led me to hydraulic pump is not turning I had to start removing the hydraulic tank then removed the hydraulic pump. I found everything looked ok till I started measuring the gear depth and found coupling the version of part# R128320 was missing the retainer to keep the coupling from moving back into the hydraulic pump shaft. I installed the new coupling that I ordered and installed everything back together and steering was restored. I was able to save the oil in buckets.
