| Cause | Removed and replaced the driver and passenger side vacuum seals. Found dust seals on axles are falling off when I was changing the vacuum seals. Replaced the dust seals on both sides. When taking off the driver side wheel hub to replace the vac seal the studs came out of the hub and damaged the threads. Was able to repair the threads on the studs and in the hub. Re-installed the hub and found the studs are touching the wheel studs when the hub turns. Cut the end of the hub studs down so they wont touch the wheel studs. Finished assembling the vehicle and then took for a roadtest to check the 4wd operation. 4WD is still not working. Checked for vacuum down to the hubs. Both sides are getting 10 inches of vacuum. Checked to see if both sides are holding vacuum. Passenger side is ok, driver side is not holding vacuum. Smoke tested the hubs and found it is leaking past the 4wd actuator on the driver side. Tried swapping the passenger side to the driver side and it holds on the driver side. Needs a new 4wd actuator as well. Got ok to replace actuator. Installed the new actuator on the passenger side and then tested the 4wd system. Both sides lock up now. Roadtested and verified 4wd is functioning correctly now. | | | | | Request Sub-total | | | | | 989.89 | | |
